

Your assignments will be graded using some form of the following criteria:

On-time- full credit is given if the assignment is turned in complete and on-time. Partial credit will be given if the student must redo the work. No credit is given if the work is not turned in on time. Further deductions may be applied for work more than one week late.

10 points total

Execution- this may include more specific subcategories relevant to the particular assignment. Overall this portion of the grade will measure how well the assignment was executed according to the directions given on the assignment sheet and in class.

45 points total

Content- this may include more specific subcategories relevant to the particular assignment. Overall this portion of the grade deals with the design and usability aspects of the completed work. How well the student deals with solving the particular design problems inherent in the assignment is measured.

45 points total